Especially about control

We make all visitors aware that everyone must go through a check before you arrive into prison. Everyone must pass through a metal portal, and we have the opportunity to make an external manual visitation. Control can also be done using a sniffer dog. Visitors must consent to such a visit. In the event of a positive effect on control or if one refuses to be visited, the visit will be rejected, cf. the Penal Enforcement Act § 27 first paragraph. If alcohol or other narcotic drugs are suspected, the visit will be rejected. Smuggling of drugs is a criminal offense and can lead to criminal liability.

If health reasons make it difficult to control you, please inform Stavanger Prison about this in advance of the visit.

The visitor can be detained for up to 4 hours until the police arrive if the check gives a positive result, or if there is reason to believe that visitors are trying to bring along objects that are not allowed into the prison.

We carry out all inspections in the gentlest way possible for the visitor.

Visits by children

Especially regarding visits by children in accordance with the Execution of Sentences Act § 31, 7 paragraph, the prison shall facilitate the conditions for visits by children to be carried out in a gentle manner.

The officials at the prison will act as discreetly as possible in relation to control and internal routines such as lock in and lockout. If it is in the best interests of the child, there are opportunities to give access to extended - or more frequent visits to the prison.

When visiting children, it is important that the guardian tell the child about the check before the visit is carried out in order to spare the child as much as possible.

Stavanger prison has an employee who is responsible for children. This person has the task of ensuring that all children who wish to do so can receive information about what it is like to be in prison and create the conditions for the best possible framework around visits to prison. The person responsible for children will contact relatives when we receive an application for a visit from a child. The child shall be allowed to comment on visits to the prison.

If you have questions about this, the child manager can be contacted at postmottak-8415@kriminalomsorg.no

If you as a visitor feel insecure about something before the visit, just ask questions when booking a visit.
